

No 04/26 – COLLAFIRTH – Repairs

Mariners are advised that Leask Marine are planning to carry out work to install anodes and do steel plate repairs to the pier in Collafirth.

This work will involve divers, working from the pier who will require access to all of the sheet pile faces - though they will not need access to all of the berths at any given day. The diving operations will include welding, lifting and power washing. Equipment for this will be stored on the pier during construction in their contractor's area.

Green box shows the contractors area.
