

Shetland Islands Council

Taxi Licensing Data Protection Privacy Statement

Who we are?

Shetland Islands Council is a local authority established under the Local Government etc. (Scotland) Act 1994. Its office headquarters is located at 8 North Ness Business Park, Lerwick, Shetland, ZE1 0LZ, United Kingdom.

You can contact our Data Protection Officer by post at this address, by e-mail at: dataprotection@shetland.gov.uk and by telephone on (01595) 744 550.

The Data Protection Officer for Shetland Islands Council is the Director – Governance.

Why do we need your personal information and what do we do with it?

You are giving us your personal information to allow us as the Licensing Authority to process and determine applications for taxi, private hire car, taxi vehicle and booking office licences under the Civic Government (Scotland) Act 1982, and carry out its related licensing functions.

We also use your information to verify your identity where required, contact you by post, email or telephone and to maintain our records.

Legal basis for using your information

We provide these services to you as part of our statutory function as your local authority. Processing your personal information is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest by the Council. We may also process your information where this is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the Council is subject.

If you do not provide us with the information we have asked for then we may be unable to process or determine your application.

We may also need to process more sensitive personal information about you, including information about your health. We also process personal information relating to criminal convictions and offences under Article 10 of the UK GDPR. This processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest. It is necessary for us to process this information to carry out our statutory functions as a licensing authority.

Where we are relying on task carried out in the public interest or legal obligation as the lawful basis for processing, we rely on various pieces of legislation. Some of the key legislation and standards we use are detailed below:-

- Civic Government (Scotland) Act 1982;
- Immigration Act 2016;

- Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974;
- Equality Act 2010; and
- Data Protection Act 2018.

What personal data we hold, and how we obtain it?

The types of personal data we hold and process about you can include:

- your name and contact details;
- date and place of birth;
- National Insurance number;
- immigration status;
- health information for taxi and private-hire drivers;
- previous convictions;
- previous licence information; and
- tax check code

We obtain this information from you or your representative. We may also obtain information from Police Scotland, the Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency, the Home Office, medical professionals, other licensing authorities, other Council services and other public or regulatory bodies where authorised by law.

All personal data is held within a secure information management system.

Who do we share your information with?

We are legally obliged to safeguard public funds so we are required to verify and check your details internally for fraud prevention. We may share this information with other public bodies (and also receive information from these other bodies) for fraud checking purposes.

We are also legally obliged to share certain data with other public bodies, such as HMRC and will do so where the law requires this. We will also generally comply with request for specific information from other regulatory and law enforcement bodies where this is necessary and appropriate.

Your information is also analysed internally and externally to help us improve our services and to comply with legislations. We provide an internal audit service because the law states we must do so. The law also states we must be audited externally. The external auditors are appointed by Audit Scotland. Our internal audit team and the external auditors may process any personal information held within the Council for its contractors and partners) in order to assess and provide assurances on the arrangements for governance, risk management and internal control within the service area. External audit will also ensure that the financial position stated in the annual accounts give a true and fair view in accordance with the law and codes of practice.

We share your information with relevant Council services where this is necessary to process your application. We also share your information with Police Scotland to check for previous convictions and pending charges.

Some information may be made available to the public through the licensing register. Where an application or other licensing matter is referred to the Licensing Committee, relevant information may be included in Committee reports and considered at a public meeting. Personal information will be withheld where publication is not required or would be inappropriate

Will we send your information outwith the UK?

We do not transfer your information outwith the UK. If it becomes necessary to do so, we would ensure that the appropriate safeguards are in place.

How long do we keep your information for?

We only keep your personal information for the minimum amount of time necessary. Sometimes this time period is set out in the law, but in most cases it is based on the business need. We maintain a records retention and disposal schedule which sets out how long we hold different types of information for. You can view this on our website at <http://www.shetland.gov.uk/information-rights/InformationManagement.asp> or you can request a hard copy from the address above.

Your rights under data protection law

Access to your information

You have the right to request a copy of the personal information that we hold about you.

Correcting your information

We want to make sure that your personal information is accurate, complete and up to date. Therefore you may ask us to correct any personal information about you that you believe does not meet these standards.

Deletion of your information

You have the right to ask us to delete personal information about you where:

- you think that we no longer need to hold the information for the purposes for which it was originally obtained
- you have a genuine objection to our use of your personal information – see Objecting to how we may use your information below
- our use of your personal information is contrary to law or our other legal obligations.

Objecting to how we may use your information

You have the right at any time to tell us to stop using your personal information for direct marketing purposes.

Restricting how we may use your information

In some cases, you may ask us to restrict how we use your personal information. This right might apply, for example, where we are checking the accuracy of personal information that we hold about you or we are assessing the objection you have made to our use of your information.

This right might also apply if we no longer have a basis for using your personal information but you don't want us to delete the data. Where this right is realistically applied will mean that we may only use the relevant personal information with your consent, for legal claims or where there are other public interest grounds to do so.

Please contact us as stated above if you wish to exercise any of these rights.

Information you have given us about other people

If you have provided anyone else's details to the Council, please make sure that you have told them that you have given their information to Shetland Islands Council. We will only use this information for a specific purpose, e.g. to contact those people in the event of an emergency, to assess your own entitlement to a service or to contact them in order to take up references in the event that you are successful in your job application.

If they want any more information on how we will use their information they can visit our web site at <http://www.shetland.gov.uk/information-rights/DataProtection.asp> or email dataprotection@shetland.gov.uk.

Complaints

We aim to directly resolve all complaints about how we handle personal information. If your complaint is about how we have handled your personal information, you can contact the Council's Data Protection Officer by E-mail at dataprotection@shetland.gov.uk or by Phone on (01595) 744 550.
